

Online Educational Resources For Families

Scholastic:

- Scholastic is offering a new mini lesson which includes, a story, a video, and an activity. These lessons are grouped into different age groups.

<https://classroommagazines.scholastic.com/support/learnathome/grades-1-2.html>

PBS Kids Daily Newsletter:

- PBS is creating a Newsletter that will give you and your children ideas for learning activities at home. They will post a new Newsletter every week.

<http://public.pbs.org/PBSKIDSDaily>

Khan Academy:

Khan Academy is offering free daily schedules for students from ages ranging from 4 to 18 years old. It will also be hosting different live streams on their Facebook, Youtube, and Twitter.

<https://www.khanacademy.org/about/blog/post/611770255064350720/remote-learning-with-khan-academy-during-school>

Circle Time:

- Circle Time is hosting free interactive videos in a range of different expertise. You can find video lessons in everything from yoga, to family cooking, to sing-along songs.

<https://circletimefun.com/>

Club SciKidz:

- Club Scikidz will post a different simple science experiment for kids and parents to do at home.

<http://www.clubscikidzmd.com/blog/>

Duolingo:

- This app (which is always free) teaches foreign languages with different and fun lessons.

<https://www.duolingo.com/>

Math Games:

- Math Games offer free math games by grade levels.

<https://www.mathgames.com/>

Mystery Science:

- Mystery Science offers mini lessons and full lessons about science for kids.

<https://mysteryscience.com/school-closure-planning>

Scratch Jr:

- Scratch Jr offers programs to kids and interactive games that help teach kids how to code.

<https://www.scratchjr.org/>

Cosmic Kids Yoga:

- They offer videos for a few minutes of peace and quiet and a nice break for kids.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/CosmicKidsYoga>

Go Noodle:

- This helps kids move around and gives kids a chance to follow along to their little dance break videos.

<https://www.gonoodle.com/>

Audible Stories:

- Audible stories are offering free books for your kids to listen to.

<https://stories.audible.com/start-listen>